Apple Greens Golf Course

Apple Greens was built by Roehrs Construction in 1995 as a nine-hole facility and has since expanded to three nines to become the only 27-hole public golf course with a country club flavor in Ulster County.

Fifteen of 27 holes must be strategically shot over water. The scenic par-4 10th green is in the shape of an apple, while the two leaves and stem are sand traps. The course's total yardage varies from 2,227 to 3,409 for the three nines.

Nestled inside apple orchard country, this well-groomed golf course showcases many of its own apple trees, which come into play on many holes. Landscaping includes ponds, a par-3 island green, fountains and great views of the entire Shawangunk Ridge and Mohonk Tower. Tee times are required.

Features: driving range, two putting greens, carts, rental clubs, pro shop, lessons, cafe and bar, group outings, specials, twilight rate and senior discounts.

Fallsview Golf Course at Honor's Haven Resort & Spa

Robert Trent Jones Sr. placed his characteristic mark on this superb, nine-hole par-35 parkland-style golf course.

The renowned master architect of the American golf courses designed these 3,432 yards with his legendary touches: Extremely long "runway" tees, strategic use of fairway bunkers, deep greenside bunkers and large elevated greens. Water comes into play on three holes.

Jones Sr.'s masterpiece requires thinking and accuracy. Fallsview's uphill, signature par-4 eighth hole has pines on the right and exceptional Shawangunk and Catskill mountain views that can interfere with concentration. Holes seven through nine are recognized as the "toughest three finishers in the Met area."

The Honor's Haven Resort & Spa has 237 rooms, full services and on-site activities. Tee times are not required.

Features: practice facility, carts, rental clubs, pro shop, lessons, dining and bar, weekly specials, golf packages, group packages, group outings and senior discounts.

Mohonk Mountain House Golf Course

Golfers and tourists alike have been coming to this National Historic Landmark since the Albert Smiley family opened the spring-fed, sky water lake resort in 1869 on the Shawangunk Ridge.

One of the oldest in the United States and designed by Robert Pryde, this scenic nine-hole, par-35 course has expanded from 1,600 to 2,707 yards, and still embodies its original Scottish influence and charm.

Tall trees, undulating greens and contour-cut fairways are part of the course's appeal. The par-3 opening hole sits 210 yards away on a steep, sloping green at the top of a bunker-protected hill. The signature par-4 fourth hole leads to a ravine below with spectacular views of the valley. The course has earned the designation of "Cooperative Sanctuary" from the International Audubon Society.

New Paltz Golf Course was built in 1972 along the Wallkill River. Course architect Hal Purdy's design transformed 3,460 yards into a combination of length, water hazards, natural marshes and trees, with views looking toward the neighboring Shawangunk Mountain range. The Lazy Swan Golf & Country Club

The Lazy Swan Golf & Country Club is Ulster County's newest golf course, which opened for play in May 2008. This 18-hole championship layout is well-conditioned and meticulously manicured, showcasing spectacular views of the Catskills.

Golf architect Barry Jordan created natural transitions to directly link the landscaped 6,216 yards with the holes, thereby giving each one unique parkland appeal. Referred to as "the thinking golfer's course," hazards, rock outcroppings and elevations are strategically placed.

The layout offers more water and sand, including 46 bunkers, than most other courses in the county. Risk-reward comes into play when golfers meet face-to-face with many holes set over water.

Often described as "Hamptons in the Hudson Valley." The Lazy Swan offers much more in addition to its world-class golf course, including Raw Bistro, a seafood and martini bar. Tee times are preferred.

Features: putting green, carts, lessons, group outings, twilight rate and junior and senior discounts, new hitting net for warming up.

Shawangunk Country Club

Backing straight up to the majestic Shawangunks, the mountain-style nine-hole golf course dates back to 1927. Every hole offers a breathtaking view.

Shawangunk Country Club's 5,367-yard par-68 course is in excellent condition and the greens are fast. The terrain, sloping hills, ponds and creek work together to create a medium to high level of difficulty that challenges even the best golfer's shot-making capabilities. The club's signature 16th hole is one of the area's toughest par-3's, requiring a long, uphill shot to a very small green.

There are men's leagues on Thursdays and women's leagues on Tuesdays, and a casual scramble tournament every Friday at 5:15 p.m. ($5 extra). Tee times are not necessary.

Features: putting green, practice area, carts, rental clubs, clubhouse/pro shop, lessons, dining and bar, group packages, and group outings
